

BIBLIOGRAPHY OF WORKS BY, IN HONOR OF, AND ABOUT JOHN VICTOR MURRA¹

BOOKS, ARTICLES, AND REVIEWS

Collier, Donald and John Victor Murra

1943 Survey and Excavations in Southern Ecuador. Chicago: Field Museum of Natural History Anthropological Series 35, Publication 528. Also published in Spanish as Reconocimientos y excavaciones en el sur del Ecuador. Cuenca: Centro de Estudios Históricos y Geográficos de Cuenca (1982); and as Reconocimientos y excavaciones en el austro ecuatoriano (2007). Cuenca: Casa de la Cultura Ecuatoriana, Nucleo del Azuay.

Condarco Morales, Ramiro and John Victor Murra

1987 La teoría de la complementariedad vertical eco-simbiótica. La Paz: Hisbol. Series Breve Biblioteca del Bolsillo 2. Contains Murra's essays, El "control vertical" de un máximo de pisos ecológicos en la economía de las sociedades andinas, pp. 29-85 (Murra 1972a) and "El Archipiélago vertical" revisitado, pp. 87-104 (Murra 1985c).

¹ Bibliographers' note: We have not been able to include all of John Victor Murra's writings of which we are aware. For example, we have not located the articles on soccer and the literary pieces he published in the Romanian-language periodical Dimineata during the 1930s (Castro et al. 2000: 22, 24). We have also not been able to find the periodical articles and speeches Murra said he wrote on behalf of unnamed African leaders (ibid.: 96). During the 1950s Murra contributed regularly to The United States Quarterly Book List published by Rutgers University Press for the Library of Congress. However, it is not possible to identify the individual reviews that Murra wrote. When page numbers or other details are omitted it is because articles were discovered in clipping files in The Catherine Pelton Durrell '25 Archives and Special Collections Library, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York; in the archives of the Anthropology Division of the American Museum of Natural History, New York City; or in the Smithsonian's National Anthropological Archives, Suitland, Maryland without such details recorded. We thank Rolena Adorno, Sumru Aricanli, Richard E. Daggett, Jean-Jacques Decoster, Pierre Duviols, David Fleming, Leanda Gahegan, Heather Lechtman, Robert S. Leopold, Dean Rogers, Deborah Santeliz-Lockwood, Daniel J. Slive, Frank Solomon, Ellen Fitz Simmons Steinberg, and the staff of New York University's Tamiment Library & Robert F. Wagner Labor Archives for assistance in the preparation of this bibliography.

PAPERS OF JOHN VICTOR MURRA

The bulk of John Victor Murra's papers are in the National Anthropological Archives of the Smithsonian Institution. For a register of these papers see: <http://www.nmnh.si.edu/naa/fa/murra.pdf> (consulted 3 June 2009).

Other archival collections with documents relevant to the life and work of John Victor Murra include The Catherine Pelton Durrell '25 Archives and Special Collections Library, Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, New York.

New York University's Bobst Library contains extensive records of the Research Institute for the Study of Man with much material relevant to Murra's work in the Caribbean.

New York University's Tamiment Library & Robert F. Wagner Labor Archives houses documents and audio-tapes relevant to Murra's participation in the Spanish Civil War.

The Harry S Truman Library and Museum, Independence, Missouri, Records on the President's Committee on Civil Rights Record Group 220 incorporates Murra's citizenship case records.

Several collections of documents in the Anthropology Division of the American Museum of Natural History have papers relevant to John Victor Murra. The records there of the Institute of Andean Research contain documents pertinent to John Murra's 1941-42 fieldwork in Ecuador, to the Inca Provincial Life (Huánuco Project), and to his tenure as President of the IAR. The AMNH's Junius B. Bird Laboratory of South American Archaeology contains further records of Murra's Huánuco Project, including field notes and photographs, transcriptions of archival documents relevant to Huánuco, maps of the region, official documents authorizing the project, interim reports, and professional and personal letters by or to Murra. Certain letters in the Bird Lab to and from E. Craig Morris and to and from John Hyslop are also relevant to Huánuco John Victor Murra's life and work.

Information on Murra in the Archivo General de la Guerra Civil, Salamanca, Spain was said by him to be partially incorrect.

Some significant John Murra papers remain in Andean countries and in private hands.
