ANDEAN PAST is a peer-reviewed, numbered publication series dedicated to research in the archaeology and ethnohistory of western South America. However, short Research Reports, obituaries, and autobiographies are subject to editorial review only. Although ANDEAN PAST focuses on precolumbian times, it includes articles on the colonial period that enhance understanding of indigenous cultures before 1492. ANDEAN PAST encourages data-based submissions, contributions to the history of Andean archaeology, papers grounded in environmental archaeology, fresh interpretations supported by accompanying data, interim and field reports, and the publication of short documents. We emphasize high quality grayscale photographs and black-and-white line illustrations.

The Cornell Latin American Studies Program is the publishing institution for ANDEAN PAST. Copyright for ANDEAN PAST resides with Cornell LASP on behalf of the editors unless a specific portion, for example, an illustration, is noted as copyrighted by another party. Authors may republish their ANDEAN PAST articles, obituaries, or reports, in English or in translation, in print, or in electronic format, provided that at least one year has elapsed since the original publication in ANDEAN PAST, that prior publication in ANDEAN PAST is indicated in the republication, that Cornell LASP's copyright is acknowledged, and that the editors of ANDEAN PAST are notified of the republication. If a portion of an article is copyrighted by a third party, authors must request specific written permission from that party to republish. This includes on-line postings in electronic format.
