

TO OUR READERS	6
THE MARGARET CHASE SMITH ESSAY
Lessons from Health Reform
by Trish Riley	8
STUDENT PERSPECTIVE
Margaret Chase Library
2013 Student Essay Contest:
Improving the American Educational System
First Place Essay
by Samantha Leiper	78
Second Place Essay
by Brady Davis	81
Third Place Essay
by Mariah Damon	84
THANKS TO OUR REVIEWERS	86

FORUMS

Issues in Tax Reform in Maine

Richard Woodbury presents some of the features of Maine's current tax system along with approaches to reform that have been considered in recent years. He discusses how alternative approaches to reform might be evaluated and structured to achieve different goals.

by Richard Woodbury 11

The Distributional Effects of Recent Changes to Maine's Tax System

Joel Johnson summarizes recent changes to Maine's income, sales, and property taxes that he argues have made the state and local tax system more regressive.

by Joel Johnson 26

The Impact of Post-Recession State Revenue Reductions on Maine's Municipalities

Based on analysis of Maine Municipal Association fiscal surveys, Emily Shaw describes how municipalities have been forced to restructure the provision and funding of local services since they have received substantially less revenue from the state in the past several years.

by Emily Shaw 34

Improving Educational Opportunity and Equity through School District Consolidation in Maine

Christine Donis-Keller, Beth O'Hara-Miklavic, and Janet Fairman analyze the impacts of Maine's 2007 school district consolidation legislation on educational opportunities and equity within 24 regional school districts.

by Christine Donis-Keller, Beth O'Hara-Miklavic and Janet Fairman 42

Policy Changes for a Nutrition Education Program in Maine:

Issues and Implications

Alan Majka, Janet Fairman, and Kathryn Yerxa draw on their research and state and national statistics to discuss programs addressing food insecurity and nutrition education, including their efficacy, limitations, potential, and threats to their sustainability.

by Alan Majka, Janet Fairman and Kathryn Yerxa 55

Ripples from the East Coast Stream: Contributions from Migrant Hispanic Workers to Maine's Wild Blueberry Industry

Vaishali Mamgain describes the vital contribution of Hispanic migrant workers in Maine's blueberry industry and discusses the potential impact on migrant workers of current and proposed state and federal laws and policies.

by Vaishali Mamgain 64

Commentary: On Maine's First Charter Schools: Promises and Pitfalls

by Sarah Butler Jessen 74